

Transit NEPTUNE square natal Venus

1 Jan through 17 Jan 1980

Dealing with and relating to others on a clear and rational basis is not going to be easy during the long period in which this influence prevails. Naturally, your age, maturity, past experiences, current circumstances, and, of course, other planetary influences that also occur at the same time will contribute to the final outcome. But in spite of these other factors, the focus of this particular influence is going to introduce confusion, unreality, and undermining influences into legal matters, counseling you give or receive, social contacts, romantic attachments, partnership (business or marriage), joint ventures, and female relationships in general. Others may misunderstand your values, or circumstances may come along that may tempt you to compromise your principles or values. Your ideals or expectations concerning others (or theirs concerning you) may be unrealistic. It is going to be difficult to get or depend on the cooperation of others, or even be sure that, if asked, you will be in a position to offer such assistance. The pursuit of pleasure and the finer things in life may be marred by one thing and another, and you will have to demonstrate patience and prudence when you are denied such things. This period will present obstacles, to be sure, but they are only challenges to stimulate your determination to succeed-- not the means by which you will fail.

Transit URANUS square natal Sun

1 Jan through 11 Jan

Circumstances may severely test your will power or determination to succeed during this period. One of the biggest frustrations will be that you are not likely to be able to control or manipulate situations that occur. It is the actions and decisions of others that initiate a situation-- the only options over which you have control being your own reactions to the situation and how to best deal with it. To describe the potential of this period as a test is appropriate since that's all it may be. This influence may mean havoc and challenges but does not necessarily signal an end to your present course or the futility of further attempts to attain your goals. The situations you may encounter are unpredictable and unexpected thus it is hard to be prepared. Under this influence it may be difficult to assert or maintain your leadership or status. You can and should, however, be prepared to stand up for your own integrity, principles, and decisions. When all is said and done, you can overcome the challenges and emerge the stronger for it.

Caution is advised during this period. Care should be taken not to arouse antagonism on any level. Actions taken as a result of anger or frustration are apt to have even unhappier consequences. Things are not as apt to run smoothly. Trying to keep to a schedule at work or at home may be a fruitless proposition. Encountering traffic jams is a strong possibility, especially if children or household errands are the reason for being out in the first place. Household appliances or equipment falters or breaks down. Accomplishing household chores and participation in family activities are apt to be a useless waste of energy. When cooking or baking be sure to check the time and temperature you use, or your food may be overdone, or completely burned. Under this influence dining is not apt to bring much pleasure, and you may suffer from digestive complaints-- the likely consequences of anger, frustration, or eating too fast. Other physical complaints may include emotional fatigue, restlessness, insomnia, skin rash, and insect bites. Check your home for possible fire hazards. Disagreement between family members, whether or not the arguments involve you, can be enough to send you somewhere else until things quiet down. This is not a favorable time for surgery, open confrontations, and competitive situations. Even if current circumstances do not present overwhelming difficulty, you may end up feeling tense and irritable. Should you gain success or favor, you may be sure it will be accompanied by an enormous payback.

Meetings of any kind can be difficult for you to organize or coordinate under this influence. Though a spirit of generosity and togetherness seems to be encouraged by current circumstances, too many people going off in too many different directions makes accomplishing group efforts more difficult to organize in spite of everyone's good intentions. Progress can be made toward attaining common goals or resolving disputes, but most likely only by letting others do their own thing independently and then bringing all the separate efforts together.

Transit SATURN trine natal Mars

1 Jan through 23 Feb, exact on 7 Feb

Physical actions are favored with success during this period. Efforts apt to be most successful are of two kinds; those that represent the past, a culmination of hard work and experience, and those that occur now and are undertaken in a careful, methodical way with an eye toward eventual success. Male relationships are solid and well favored these days. Removal of cataracts or dental work, including oral surgery is successful if undertaken at this time. This is a period of smooth functioning for mechanical and physical systems. Tradition and authority are given proper attention and respect, and as a result, substantial benefits of one kind or another are gained.

Present circumstances may put you into such a tense or aggravated state as to cause you to do something you would not ordinarily do. Because this influence implies rash as well as unpredictable actions, caution is advised during this period. Keep in mind that not only are your actions unpredictable but also their consequences, that is, whatever you hope to gain by them is not likely to be what results. The performance of machinery and equipment, as well as that of the people who may work for or with you, is also unpredictable at this time. Expect to encounter some snags when you attempt to make changes in work schedules or introduce new methods.

Transit URANUS opposed natal Mars

29 Jan through 1 Apr, station on 29 Feb

During this period the urge to act is liable to be more compelling than the reasons for doing so, indeed it may be the only reason. Many of your physical efforts and activities are erratic and unpredictable, and the results of the actions you take may be rated in the same way. You may be a rebel without a cause. Actions taken against you may be totally unexpected. The element of danger they can pose if not a certain reality is at least a possibility. Male relationships are apt to be disrupted as the prospect of separation from male relatives or companions increases. Your job or physical work in which you engage is subject to increased stress and chaos, which in turn, can have a negative impact on your health. Headaches and fever or injury to the face or eyes are potential problems. This is not a favorable period for undergoing surgery since its outcome is more unpredictable than the normal odds would describe. Aggressive tendencies and rash behavior with respect to sexual encounters, sports activities, or any highly competitive situation are to be avoided in yourself as well as in others. The outcome of a hostile physical confrontation is not apt to favor you, and such situations should therefore be approached with due caution or avoided altogether.

Transit SATURN square natal Saturn

23 Feb through 20 Mar, exact on 7 Mar

There is little flexibility in your current circumstances. The key is to find the little that is there. People and situations you encounter are too much alike, imposing too many of the same restrictions, fears, or formalities to allow for new growth or overwhelming success. The positive side is that it is only temporary and should not be allowed to drastically interfere with your plans and goals.

Transit NEPTUNE trine natal Sun

29 Feb through 18 Apr, station on 24 Mar

This can be an extremely fortunate period. However, it is long-term, and as such, it cannot help but be modified from time to time by other circumstances and influences, any of which may be strong enough to mask the otherwise favorable possibilities of this period. The positive potential of this period surrounds you with an aura of glamor, mystery, or spirituality that attracts others and opens doors that might otherwise have been closed to you. Your aesthetic tastes are greatly enhanced as well as recognized by others; which means if these qualities are used in your work or profession this is a favorable period to promote them. Wine, perfume, drugs, art, photography, religion, promotion, dance, footwear, charitable foundations, penal institutions, hospitals, the navy, marine equipment and any activities or items related to the ocean are some of the very specific areas where you will have an excellent chance to succeed if they happen to match your interest or talents. Trying to pinpoint the source of your good fortune when it occurs, or explain exactly how you happen to be at the right place at the right time, might be difficult because of the elusive or illusional quality of the circumstances involved. It is not exactly that you will not deserve the attention or success that can come your way, but the truth is that goals you attain, recognition and honor you receive, as well as leadership or similar positions may be given to you just as easily with no effort on your part as they may be if you have worked long and hard to attain them.

Transit MARS square natal Mars

The raw energy in your present environment is stimulating, but the tension it also implies can bring anger and frustration that slow down efforts to get things done. Everyone may be too busy to pay enough attention to helping anyone else. It is not the time for indecisive actions or you run the risk that others will attain the success you had hoped to achieve. This period is one of a decidedly masculine influence. The methods needed are apt to require physical strength, and the energy with which they are performed must be rough and aggressive-- making up in forcefulness and determination for what may be lacking in caution or refinement.

Transit SATURN conjoined natal Venus

During this period even the most casual interactions tend to become fraught with seriousness, intended or not. Female relationships, partnership and other alliance, and joint ventures of any kind are especially vulnerable to this pattern. There is a greater attraction between you and those who are older or more mature. Humor is missing from many encounters and situations. Enjoyment, if it is found at all, is curtailed by attendant responsibilities. All this negativity paints a gloomy picture but much can also be said for the potentially positive circumstances. More structure and seriousness imposed on relationships can mean more stability and commitment. A tendency to be more formal in your manner and perhaps even in your dress would not be unusual under this influence. While there may be little or no room for flirtation and whimsy in romantic or potential partnership proposals, there may also be no doubt about your serious intentions, as well as on the part of those who accept your advances. Socializing can become tedious, and if you are not one to take on a busy social life in the first place, this influence can turn you away from caring about it altogether. Artistic endeavors become more focused and organized, though originality and imagination can suffer from the tendency to stick to tradition or whatever methods or patterns you know best. This is an unfavorable period for beauty treatments, cosmetic surgery, or redecorating projects. Diplomatic as well as social gestures are likely to be self-serving.

Transit MARS conjoined natal Mercury

16 Jun through 20 Jun, exact on 18 Jun

Mental energies are high--urging you to turn thoughts into actions. An energetic stream of information and ideas flows through your immediate environment, and there is strong potential that much of it is generated by you. A faster pace and increased volume of communications can become chaotic, and at times, inspire an aggressive atmosphere-- verbal combat being a not unlikely prospect. You do not hesitate to speak your mind or demand that others do the same. On the other hand, it may be a case of others who challenge you to defend your ideas or opinions. Meetings and discussion groups tend to be enthusiastic and energetic, or, if the conditions encourage such an atmosphere, they may be aggressive and combative. By choice or circumstance you may put more physical efforts into the use or development of athletic, mechanical, computer, or artistic skills. Under this influence, sales and other commercial transactions and business activities are more vigorous--though the competition encountered may also be more fierce. Your car or other motorized vehicles, office equipment, or computer may require repairs or replacement. A greater urge to travel is apt to be accompanied by increased tendency to speed. As a result you are tempted to drive too fast or become unduly impatient when stuck in traffic jams. You may be unavoidably detained by delays in public transportation. There is also potential to suffer from headaches and cuts or burns, especially to the head, face, hands, or fingers.

Transit MARS conjoined natal Venus

21 Jun through 24 Jun, exact on 22 Jun

New partnership, alliances, and joint ventures may be established, and those in which you are currently involved may experience renewed energy and enthusiasm. Unless negative situations are around to provoke unpleasant attitudes, your willingness to cooperate is enhanced, and in return, you are just as likely to receive generous assistance with your own projects. Interactions with others at all levels are more invigorating. Physical efforts are also especially enthusiastic if you are involved in art, music, design, or the beauty business. If you have been thinking of undergoing cosmetic surgery, enhancing your wardrobe, or redecorating your home, you are apt to put such plans into action at this time. Romantic adventures, legal matters, and social events are other prime targets of energetic endeavors. There is nothing in any of these potential situations to suggest whether the efforts put forth are positive or negative, or whether they will have positive or negative consequences. Other prevailing circumstances will have to determine the outcome.

Transit MARS square natal Saturn

28 Jun through 1 Jul, exact on 30 Jun

The difficulties and delays you encounter during this period are likely to be caused by lack of preparation, planning, and organization--either on your part or that of others. The maddening thing is that even if you are the most careful individual, you are apt to be caught just when things are in disarray, or, just when you need something, it cannot be located in time. Bad timing is, in fact, one of the biggest obstacles to progress. Under this influence others may physically resist or even threaten your seniority or position of authority-- nor are you likely to take it graciously when they do. The best part of the present circumstances is the potential that you will eventually succeed, even if it is because maturity and experience dictates that you keep on going until everything goes as it should.

Transit MARS trine natal Mars

You are surrounded by an abundance of free and easygoing energy during this period. If you need help getting things done, it will appear. People you encounter are apt to be applying their physical efforts toward the same or very similar goals. Obstacles in your path are few or nonexistent. Under this influence you can make one effort fit neatly into the next one-- resulting in a series of accomplishments. It is also a time when your physical actions-- whatever their purpose-- may have the fortunate consequence of putting you in the right place at the right time.

Transit MARS conjoined natal Neptune

During this period the best advice is to keep a low and cautious profile. Though it is possible for actions to be truly inspired, the potential is high for making unwise decisions and taking equally unwise actions. People you encounter can quickly become confused or misunderstand you or your actions; nor are you any more likely to understand the actions or motives of others. Trying to discover and sort out who did what, and where, when, or why it was done, may be virtually impossible. Physical efforts may be purposely secretive, or simply go undetected or unrecognized. Physical energy and efforts can quickly become dissipated or undermined. The positive potential includes increased enthusiasm for spiritual awareness and artistic sensitivity. Extreme caution is advised when around or in the water, and when dealing with drugs, chemicals, or gas.

Your efforts may lead, for instance, to increased physical strength, more control over your actions, and greater resourcefulness. This period is a chance to put more concentration into your efforts, whatever they are. Unless other circumstances discourage the otherwise fortunate potential, it is a good time to introduce changes in work schedule, implement new methods and procedures, and to deal with technical equipment, computers, and inventions. Travel by air, activities with friends, and organizing group efforts are other favored activities.

Transit MARS sextile natal Jupiter

This period favors taking advantage of people and situations in ways that will eventually lead to advancement in your professional status, broader intellectual horizons, attainment of cultural pursuits, greater spiritual awareness, success in sports, realization of political ambitions, or international travel. Under this influence your physical efforts may give you a chance to enjoy the good life, move up the social ladder, publish a book or other material, exhibit your sense of humor, or participate in theatrical productions.

Not always observable or of sufficient strength to make much of an impact, the current influence is nevertheless of a positive nature. If other, more potent influences are around to promote a similar atmosphere, it can mean an opportunity that will lead to socializing or interacting with others, perhaps with unusual or unique people. Under this influence the people you meet or circumstances you encounter can ultimately result in a joint venture, marriage, or establishing a business partnership or other kind of alliance. Here again, it may be a unique sort of partnership or there is something different or unorthodox about the partner you choose. What you have to keep in mind about this influence is that it represents only opportunity that can later become the reality, not the reality itself.

Transit JUPITER opposed natal Moon

9 Aug through 19 Aug, exact on 14 Aug

Emotional lows are the potential result of your current circumstances. But if you are possessed of a fighting spirit, the loss of hope or promise during this period can inspire you to hang in there. It is important to realize that you will probably not be able to remove the forces that oppose you, which only leaves you the option of finding a constructive way to work around them or with them. Though established relationships can be pulled apart by hysteria and vastly inflated emotional needs, they may eventually emerge the stronger for the experience. Weaker emotional commitments will, of course, be even more seriously threatened by this influence. If they are dissolved, at least it will provide the freedom for you to eventually establish new and stronger alliances. Freedom is likely to be an underlying factor in most of what occurs during this period. It would be foolhardy to expect any tangible material gains. If such is the case and your fondest desires are fulfilled, they will not be yours except at a very high price. Home and family are burdened with an overloaded emotional environment. Children are apt to be out of control. Nor is this a favorable period for speculative ventures of any kind, especially not those that deal with agricultural products, real estate, or domestic goods. There is liable to be a glut of these things in the market place. Perhaps one of the best things to keep in mind during this period is that more is not likely to mean better. Act accordingly.

Transit MARS sextile natal Sun

17 Aug through 20 Aug, exact on 19 Aug

Use opportunities presented by current circumstances to take physical actions; advantageous actions that can eventually lead to furthering your career or to gaining recognition of your individuality and talent. Do not pass up a chance to demonstrate courage, integrity, and loyalty, or to vigorously defend your principles. The ultimate ego satisfaction you get or goals you attain during this period may come through men or a male individual, or from being in situations that may be described as competitive or aggressive. Success is also most likely to result from being a doer, which means you cannot sit around waiting for things to happen. You need to put yourself physically in different situations, participate in a variety of activities, and circulate among a wide variety of people in order to attract the kind of opportunity you're looking for.

Transit MARS trine natal Saturn

You are apt to have more patience during this period. If you require more time to accomplish a certain task, it will be granted. Maturity and experience behind your actions is one of the keys to the successful results they bring. If you fail to apply such wisdom in a given situation, you may nevertheless benefit from the actions of those who do. This is one of the most favorable of influences-- not only for the potential success of your efforts but because they are likely to be meaningful, long-lasting accomplishments. It is an auspicious time to initiate projects that are geared toward bringing benefits at a later time in your life.

Your range of interests and activities is likely to increase measurably during this period. Greater mental and physical restlessness stirs you to find new ways to communicate, new methods, and new experiences, all of which can broaden your intellectual horizons. Business ventures, travel, sales, advertising, higher education, religion, politics, law, languages, and drama represent at least some of the particular areas that may grab your attention and inspire your participation during this period. Under this influence you may travel more, and travel more luxuriously when you do. A wide variety of other possibilities exists as well. Your neighborhood, for example, can become a place of expansion and development, contacts with siblings and/or neighbors are enhanced, and your interest and status in community affairs increase. You are likely to read, write, and talk more. Some self-imposed restrictions may be necessary so as to avoid such negative potentials as intellectual arrogance, or taking on more than you can handle with the result that you achieve nothing of any lasting value.

Transit MARS square natal Pluto

Power struggles, jealousy, and revenge may be the guiding forces behind some pretty intense activities during this period. Transformed into positive energy, it can result in formidable accomplishments.

Transit JUPITER conjoined natal Venus

Your capacity and desire for pleasure and luxury are enhanced during this period, a situation that can lead to overindulgence and extravagance. However, it can also contribute to the expansion of your social life, establishment of fortunate partnerships and alliances, success in the arts, writing, or publishing. Under this influence there is no doubt of the potential benefits that are made possible as a result of your relationships and social interactions with others. The negative potential suggests you may give in to physical laziness or take too much for granted, and thus not be enterprising enough to take advantage of the contacts that are made. Enhanced enjoyment of your female friendships is likely. If this period finds you lacking in the things you most desire, you may be all too willing to sacrifice long-term relationships or other values for what may be a short-term gain. Another possibility is that you simply overestimate the true nature of relationships that come along; believing they are more promising than they may actually be. Wisdom, maturity, and prudence are needed to profitably extract the added pleasures and good fortune that can come your way without being trapped by them.

Transit MARS square natal Jupiter

A certain amount of restlessness and lack of attention to detail in your actions during this period may be the consequence of responding too much to “the big picture”. Increased tendency to overreach may result in your having to pay the consequences for exaggeration and extravagant gestures. Do not be tempted to accept more work than you are physically capable of handling, or assignments for which you lack the proper skills or experience. Do not take risks if you cannot afford to suffer the consequences of the potential loss. The point to remember (and possibly avoid while under this influence) is that your tendency toward expansive gestures, to whatever that trait exists in your nature and personality, will be enhanced. If your gestures are prudent you will overcome whatever physical obstacles block your path. Whether or not you succeed, at least you will not walk away empty handed.

Transit MARS trine natal Moon

Your personal environment is likely to be pretty smooth during this period. Schedules are not interrupted, machinery hums along as it should, everyone does what they are supposed to, and tasks are accomplished on time and with little effort. Creativity and imagination are enhanced. Your actions are more apt to be guided by instinct and intuition. Efforts related to home, family and nutrition are not only successful but emotionally satisfying. This is an excellent time for planting seeds. Activities involving or related to women and babies are highly favored. Under this influence you do not feel the need to compete with anyone, not even yourself. If something comes along that you enjoy you will have plenty of enthusiasm and energy to pursue it.

Transit SATURN conjoined natal Neptune

Your spiritual tendencies, artistic bents, and flights of imagination may be overshadowed by the grim face of reality or even disillusionment during this period. Other situations you encounter may engender misinterpretation and misunderstanding. What exactly you are supposed to be responsible for can completely escape your notice. You may fail to comprehend the reality of a situation, and unnecessarily assume a burden of responsibilities that are not yours. This is a period in which to be especially wary of monetary matters. All is not negative, however. Artistic and creative projects can benefit from a dose of reality, structure, and organization. Under this influence spiritual growth is gained through more traditional understandings. Charitable efforts are put to practical and focused purposes.

Current circumstances imply opportunity to physically touch base with others-- to exchange ideas and information. Contacts and activities with neighbors and/or siblings are apt to be especially stimulating, physically as well as mentally. Advantageous circumstances may present you with a chance to initiate projects related to writing, direct-mail promotions, or publishing. You may run across a bargain that leads to the purchase or sale of a car or other vehicle. A chance to travel may also come your way. Valuable information or ideas may be waiting for you if you take an opportunity to catch up on correspondence and reading. Take advantage of any situation that allows you to use or develop mechanical, computer, or artistic skills. Meetings and discussion groups can provide a forum for you to inspire others to take affirmative action, or, perhaps your participation in such get-togethers will stimulate you to take such action.

Opportunities that may lead to romance, social activities, partnership, and joint ventures are potentials implied by this period. There is no guarantee that such potentials will automatically come your way. Success is more likely to be the result of deliberately putting yourself in situations that generate such opportunities. This favorable influence encourages you to help others attain their goals, and in return, you will be able to ask for their assistance in your own efforts. Legal matters, contract negotiations, enhancement of your physical appearance, and artistic projects may eventually be successful as a result of opportunities offered by present circumstances.

24 Sep through 3 Oct, exact on 29 Sep

The people or situations you encounter during this period can make it seem worthwhile to forego your own mature judgment and experience, to try short cuts, or avoid the rules and regulations. Resist the temptation. In the end, the frustrations and further delays that develop will make you realize it would have been far simpler and more profitable to simply go by the book.

In spite of this negative prospect however, you can still make some progress which is better than none at all.

Transit MARS square natal Sun

1 Oct through 4 Oct, exact on 3 Oct

You may be touchier than usual when others impinge on your territory, challenge your authority, and question your methods. Whether you stick to your way of doing things or decide to follow the suggestions of others, your desire for personal accomplishment is apt to be very strong during this period. You seek ego-gratification from the final result of your efforts, not from the methods you used to accomplish it. Tension may rise when dealing with male companions or co-workers. Under this influence, the success of your efforts is likely to be delayed as a consequence of actions that are unnecessarily aggressive or too hasty. Having found a way to restrain these tendencies, and applying determination and patience, you will accomplish far more than you anticipated. During this period take precautions in all your physical efforts in order to avoid injury to your head or face, or putting too much strain on your heart and spine.

Transit MARS opposed natal Mars

5 Oct through 8 Oct, exact on 6 Oct

The biggest potential of this period is that you may have to constantly cope with people whose actions and purposes are diametrically opposed to your own. Under this influence your attempts to physically accomplish something may be appropriately compared to hitting your head against the proverbial stone wall. Making little or no headway, you'll end up wondering why you ever wasted your energy in the first place. Nor will you succeed any better with a show of strength or aggressiveness, since these efforts are apt to be met with an equally determined exhibition of force. It may be difficult to sustain any controlled or stable physical efforts at this time, but things may be easier for you if do not waste what energy you have with anything but the most routine, quietly carried out tasks.

Transit JUPITER trine natal Mars

3 Oct through 13 Oct, exact on 8 Oct

During this period many things you try may seem to succeed with little or no effort, and even difficult things are easier to accomplish. In other times and different societies, hunters and warriors who began their enterprises under this influence would be expected to succeed. You may apply this to your current physical efforts. In spite of its fortunate potential however, this influence is also known to promote physical laziness and a state of contentment that discourages strong inclinations to rise to competitive situations and other challenges that come along. Knowing this, it would be in your best interests not to let inertia interfere with your physical industriousness. For whatever purpose your actions are aimed, there will be an element of luck associated with them. Even apparent failures have a way of being fortuitous in some advantageous way. After all, it is better to miss the bus than to be struck by it. Good fortune may come to you through a man, and male relationships in general are favored at this time.

Transit URANUS square natal Sun

17 Sep through 26 Oct, exact on 8 Oct

Circumstances may severely test your will power or determination to succeed during this period. One of the biggest frustrations will be that you are not likely to be able to control or manipulate situations that occur. It is the actions and decisions of others that initiate a situation-- the only options over which you have control being your own reactions to the situation and how to best deal with it. To describe the potential of this period as a test is appropriate since that's all it may be. This influence may mean havoc and challenges but does not necessarily signal an end to your present course or the futility of further attempts to attain your goals. The situations you may encounter are unpredictable and unexpected thus it is hard to be prepared. Under this influence it may be difficult to assert or maintain your leadership or status. You can and should, however, be prepared to stand up for your own integrity, principles, and decisions. When all is said and done, you can overcome the challenges and emerge the stronger for it.

Transit MARS sextile natal Neptune

11 Oct through 14 Oct, exact on 12 Oct

This is a period to look for opportunities that expand your spiritual and artistic awareness and allow you to develop and use your intuitive abilities. Taking advantage of the people and situations you encounter under this influence, may lead to more mundane opportunities including a chance to go swimming, fishing, sailing, or dancing. Depending on your particular interests and the nature of circumstances at this time, your efforts may mean eventual success in activities that involve such areas as promotion, photography, magic, illusion, oil or gas industries, charitable institutions, bankruptcy proceedings, art and entertainment. The only problem you encounter during this period may be in distinguishing genuine opportunities from false or misleading promises. Be as astute as you can under the circumstances.

Transit MARS trine natal Pluto

21 Oct through 23 Oct, exact on 22 Oct

Research and investigation flourish during this period. You can really get to the bottom of things with the help of the intense, focused energy that surrounds you. Psychological analysis, assessment of property, and financial investments are infused with a physical focus that gives keener perception to the intellectual efforts involved in these matters. Under this influence you have all the control you need if you do not take it for granted, and you recognize how to apply its subtle but deadly accurate force. Your recuperative powers, should you need them, are at a high level.

Transit MARS opposed natal Uranus

22 Oct through 25 Oct, exact on 24 Oct

The physical energy surrounding you during this period indicates it would be a waste of time to try and coordinate group efforts. Though activities with friends and organizations are likely to be disrupted, other aspects of your personal life may not be so disturbed. The unstable influence of current circumstances makes it difficult to predict what actions you may unexpectedly take, or what actions may suddenly be taken against you. It is not a favorable period to act on the spur-of-the-moment, or to participate in new or unusual experiences. The potential is high that the results of such activities will be unsuccessful, perhaps even disastrous. Under this influence being in the middle of a crowd is unsettling, and the same may be said for single encounters with strangers. Make no attempt to act out or impose egalitarian gestures to counteract prejudice. It is apt to raise more than resentment in those with a deep bias who will not hesitate to attack you as well as your lofty principles.

Transit MARS trine natal Jupiter

25 Oct through 28 Oct, exact on 26 Oct

Unless negative circumstances also occur at this time and discourage the otherwise potential benefits of this period, your general status will greatly improve. Success is apt to be the result of just about anything you attempt. Efforts rarely come to nothing under this influence. Even a failed effort is likely to result in some better prospect. This is definitely the time to promote and demonstrate the position and knowledge you have achieved. You are highly favored in activities that involve long-distance travel, writing, publishing, theater, dance, art, religion, politics, law, investment and finances, and sports. Gambles and other risk-taking ventures are likely to pay off. Men in your life, especially a male parent, are also favored at this time-- and your own good fortune may also come through them. This is a period in which to grab and savor everything that brings enjoyment, humor, truth, and the good life. Do not however, let overconfidence in your own ability, the pursuit of pleasure, or laziness spoil the potential success of enterprises.

Transit JUPITER conjoined natal Neptune

24 Oct through 3 Nov, exact on 29 Oct

Whatever facets of your nature require illusion or pretense will be satisfied during this period. It is however, not an altogether healthy influence if your nature is one that too easily loses touch with reality. Enhanced imagination can produce the most inspired ideas and actions; but unfortunately it can also be responsible for encouraging fanaticism and paranoia. Your psychic energy, instincts, spiritual awareness, and artistic sensitivity can reach unprecedented development if you choose to use this period to investigate and use them. Specific people and situations that you encounter under this influence are likely to have association with footwear, the feet, dancing, the ocean, drugs or alcohol, religion, promotion, bankruptcy, scandal, and mystery or illusion. Keep in mind that these associations may be of both a positive as well as a negative nature. You must decide and act accordingly.

Transit MARS square natal Moon

30 Oct through 2 Nov, exact on 1 Nov

Things are not as apt to run smoothly during this period. Equipment falters or breaks down, causing frustration and delay. Encountering traffic jams is a strong possibility, especially if you are homeward bound and/or children or household errands are the reason for being out in the first place. Accidents or temper tantrums waste more time. Under this influence you may suffer from digestive complaints-- the likely consequences of anger, frustration, or eating too fast. Care should be taken not to arouse antagonism in male relationships. Check your home for possible fire hazards. Disagreement between family members, whether or not the arguments involve you, can be enough to send you somewhere else until things quiet down. When cooking or baking be sure to check the time and temperature you use, or your food may be overdone, or even burned. Even with all the potential for trouble and frustration, it is nevertheless possible to accomplish quite a bit. Things may get done because of rather than in spite of the obstacles that must be overcome.

Transit MARS square natal Mercury

4 Nov through 7 Nov, exact on 6 Nov

Too much haste or aggressiveness causes tempers to flare. Expect to encounter argumentative males, aggressive drivers, and frustration when trying to put ideas into action or implement new work methods. Check your work place for faulty wiring and possible fire hazards. Wrong directions, bad weather, and other physical obstacles can slow you down when traveling or interfere with the flow of information and other communications. During this period caution is advised to prevent possible burns or cuts, especially to your fingers and hands. In spite of all these potential problems, there is abundant and stimulating energy available. Even if initially aroused by anger or frustration, this energy can, with just a little effort, be rechanneled into positive accomplishments.

Transit MARS square natal Venus

8 Nov through 10 Nov, exact on 9 Nov

Social activities, partnership, cooperative efforts, romantic adventures, diplomatic maneuvers, and legal negotiations can be successful under this influence, but the potential is that these endeavors will not proceed altogether smoothly. Jealousy, envy, and insensitivity are factors that must be avoided or eliminated when they appear. Another way to minimize the negative potential of this period is to tone down aggressiveness and promote an impression of harmony and cooperation. If life were to imitate art under this influence, the message would be not to choose colors that blend, instead choose colors that go well because of the contrast they make with each other. There is much that can be stimulating and exciting in the course of your physical efforts and interactions with others during this period.

Transit MARS trine natal Sun

12 Nov through 14 Nov, exact on 13 Nov

This can be an ego-boosting period in which you feel more confident that your efforts will be successful. In turn, this is the kind of attitude that attracts the people and success you are looking for. Self-promotion works very well, as does using the efforts of others to your own advantage. Other potentials imply that your physical efforts--whatever they may be-- may bring you recognition or a position of leadership, and that you may be more generous in helping others. Though this influence increases vitality, it can also promote a certain amount of laziness. If you are by nature a less-than-energetic individual, this period is not likely to galvanize you into action. It may be your good fortune however, to get others to do the work for you. Some of the most highly favored activities include those that involve men or products and services related to men, military maneuvers, sports, surgical procedures, manufacturing, and firearms. Just plain good luck can save you from accidents and other mishaps. The only word of warning is not to take things too much for granted, or become too sure of yourself.

Transit MARS opposed natal Saturn

12 Nov through 15 Nov, exact on 14 Nov

Any short cut you attempt in order to make things easier during this period is apt to have undesirable results. You may waste more time and energy trying to get around the rules than if you had just complied with them in the first place. You resist, perhaps even resent, the authority of others and what may be worse, you are just as likely to encounter the very same attitude in others should you try to impose your own authority. Under this influence attempts at organization or to put some structure and purpose into projects and other physical efforts are going to be difficult, and more than one task may be abandoned in discouragement. Delay turns into cancellation, and anger thwarts the prudent dictates of maturity and experience. A certain amount of caution is necessary since there is increased potential for accidents to your teeth or bones and flare-ups of chronic ailments.

Transit URANUS opposed natal Mars

6 Nov through 8 Dec, exact on 22 Nov

During this period the urge to act is liable to be more compelling than the reasons for doing so, indeed it may be the only reason. Many of your physical efforts and activities are erratic and unpredictable, and the results of the actions you take may be rated in the same way. You may be a rebel without a cause. Actions taken against you may be totally unexpected. The element of danger they can pose if not a certain reality is at least a possibility. Male relationships are apt to be disrupted as the prospect of separation from male relatives or companions increases. Your job or physical work in which you engage is subject to increased stress and chaos, which in turn, can have a negative impact on your health. Headaches and fever or injury to the face or eyes are potential problems. This is not a favorable period for undergoing surgery since its outcome is more unpredictable than the normal odds would describe. Aggressive tendencies and rash behavior with respect to sexual encounters, sports activities, or any highly competitive situation are to be avoided in yourself as well as in others. The outcome of a hostile physical confrontation is not apt to favor you, and such situations should therefore be approached with due caution or avoided altogether.

Transit MARS square natal Neptune

21 Nov through 23 Nov, exact on 22 Nov

Your actions during this period may very well be inspired, but they are not apt to be organized, well-planned or carefully executed. The shortest distance between two points is not likely to be the expected straight line. The present atmosphere is not conducive to logical actions, though you may find plenty of rationalizations for the actions you do take. You will have to make a determined effort if you wish to avoid wasting time and energy. Methods used to accomplish something must depend on intuition and instinct, since there may be little else to go on. Under this influence there is a certain amount of danger due to inattention, or because you may simply be unaware of potentially perilous situations. Laziness is another potential obstacle you may have to overcome.

Transit PLUTO trine natal Saturn

22 Nov through 31 Dec

The energy of this long-term influence is favorable and the benefits and good fortune that come your way during this period are likely to have implications for your success in the future. This means the efforts you make during this period to take advantage of seniority, to gain the rewards of your hard work and sacrifice, or to establish traditions and structures that will support your life-style will no doubt be successful. However, just as important as any immediate victories you may have, is the fact that these efforts will have a significant role to play in giving you the power or influence to maintain, or regain if necessary, success in these same areas at some point in the future.

Transit SATURN sextile natal Pluto

15 Nov through 9 Dec, exact on 26 Nov

The potential influence of current circumstances is likely to pass unnoticed, unless you are engaged at this time in some intense mental, emotional, or physical activity. If such a struggle is in fact the case, you may encounter people and situations that offer opportunity to increase your patience and determination. Ultimately it can mean you will gain even greater control, quite possibly through the help and advice of those older and wiser.

Transit PLUTO sextile natal Sun

4 Nov through 31 Dec, exact on 3 Dec

The influence surrounding you during this period is not strong or dynamic enough to cause much change unless it is supplemented by the occurrence of other factors and circumstances that encourage its energy and particular focus. The energy of the influence is favorable, however, and is represented by an opportunity to gain power or control, to revitalize or renovate something that has been lost, or to make a new start. Knowing there is a certain amount of favorable energy available during this period, it is then up to you to be on the lookout for possibilities that may come along, and to take advantage of them when they do. You can also use the people and circumstances you encounter to create your own opportunities. All that has just been described relates during this period to your ego and to situations that may eventually lead to a more powerful status or position of leadership or professional reputation, and to gaining recognition for your generosity, integrity, and individuality. Opportunities at this time may also lead to resolving (or getting out of) relationships and situations where your ego cannot grow or is being stifled, and a chance to strike out on your own.

Transit JUPITER sextile natal Pluto

3 Dec through 19 Dec, exact on 10 Dec

Current circumstances may offer opportunity to increase your personal power and control, or at the very least, a chance to understand how this might be accomplished. This can be a good time to analyze your personal talent and skills and find out how they may be developed and used more effectively.

Transit MARS sextile natal Moon

9 Dec through 12 Dec, exact on 10 Dec

You may get the opportunity to turn feelings into physical actions or to physically express your emotions. If you are involved in creative or artistic activities your efforts now may ultimately lead to successful exhibitions of your work, to greater emotional satisfaction from physically expressing your talent, or a chance to successfully represent the talents of others. If your interest and instincts are aroused-- follow their lead. Current circumstances may bring a chance to promote family relationships and activities or to accomplish domestic tasks. Your children or other family members may be given an opportunity to work or to compete in sports events or other competition. Do not pass up the chance to invite male companions, family members, and business associates to dine. Avoid future problems with appliances and machinery by taking time now to repair them or provide the routine maintenance they require.

Transit SATURN trine natal Uranus

28 Nov through 31 Dec, exact on 11 Dec

Business and finance benefit from current circumstances. Though the fortunate potential may extend to your personal finances, it is more likely to favor the financial fortunes of groups and organizations. You may or may not be directly involved in the success of fund raisers or other fiscal efforts of groups, but you may be the beneficiary of lower interest rates or some other sort of monetary break caused by thriving economic conditions somewhere in your environment.

Transit MARS trine natal Mercury

14 Dec through 17 Dec, exact on 15 Dec

A surge of physical energy and enthusiasm may prompt you to turn thoughts or ideas into actions--the results of which can be very successful. Sales, installation and repair of machinery or equipment are highly favored. Sales of any kind are likely to be more energetic and successful. This also applies to travel, activities and meetings, and the physical dissemination of information. Work that is done or business that is owned or operated by you and/or your siblings is likely to flourish at this time, especially if the job or business is in your neighborhood. Under this influence good fortune or good news comes through the mail or by telephone. This is an auspicious period for writing, designing, buying a car or other motorized vehicles, or developing your mechanical or computer skills.

17 Dec through 31 Dec

This can be an extremely fortunate period. However, it is long-term, and as such, it cannot help but be modified from time to time by other circumstances and influences, any of which may be strong enough to mask the otherwise favorable possibilities of this period. The positive potential of this period surrounds you with an aura of glamor, mystery, or spirituality that attracts others and opens doors that might otherwise have been closed to you. Your aesthetic tastes are greatly enhanced as well as recognized by others; which means if these qualities are used in your work or profession this is a favorable period to promote them. Wine, perfume, drugs, art, photography, religion, promotion, dance, footwear, charitable foundations, penal institutions, hospitals, the navy, marine equipment and any activities or items related to the ocean are some of the very specific areas where you will have an excellent chance to succeed if they happen to match your interest or talents. Trying to pinpoint the source of your good fortune when it occurs, or explain exactly how you happen to be at the right place at the right time, might be difficult because of the elusive or illusional quality of the circumstances involved. It is not exactly that you will not deserve the attention or success that can come your way, but the truth is that goals you attain, recognition and honor you receive, as well as leadership or similar positions may be given to you just as easily with no effort on your part as they may be if you have worked long and hard to attain them.

Transit MARS trine natal Venus

17 Dec through 20 Dec, exact on 18 Dec

Unless negative circumstances also happen to occur and strongly indicate caution, this is an excellent time for a haircut, beauty treatment, dental work, or cosmetic surgery. Under this influence your actions and gestures are likely to be more graceful and elegant; literally as well as figuratively. The social scene is abuzz and everyone is animated and attractive. Romance, partnership, and other alliances flourish. This is a time to do things with others-- cooperative efforts may be able to accomplish what you have not been able to do by yourself. Activities that involve art, design, music, jewelry, flowers, the beauty business, debate, and legal matters are favored.

Transit JUPITER trine natal Uranus

11 Dec through 31 Dec, exact on 20 Dec

Good fortune may come to you through friends and organizations. For the most part however, the potential luck that is promised is more likely to benefit your particular generation rather than you as an individual. This influence makes it easier to organize people and coordinate group activities. There is also a certain amount of success to be expected in financial dealings, but this success is likely to be associated with organizational efforts such as fund-raising rather than a private windfall that comes your way.

Transit MARS trine natal Mars24 Dec through 27 Dec, exact on 25 Dec

Transit SATURN sextile natal Jupiter28 Dec through 31 Dec

This is a period when current circumstances offer opportunities that lead to your personal growth. It may be a chance to increase your spirituality, expand your intellectual horizons, and gain new experiences through travel and dealing with those of another race or culture. Under this influence the people and situations you encounter may ultimately improve your economic or professional status, or lead to the expansion and success of cultural and political pursuits.

Transit MARS trine natal Neptune30 Dec through 31 Dec

This is a period to use your intuitive abilities, increase your spiritual awareness, investigate dreams and the occult, and carry out as much of your work and other physical activities as possible behind the scenes. Exactly how or by what means some task or achievement is accomplished may not be apparent, nor does it have to be. The successful result such actions are likely to produce will be clear enough to make everybody happy. Some of the most successful work and other physical activities during this period involve in one aspect or another such areas as arts and entertainment (especially dance), photography, charitable institutions, drugs, alcohol, oil, gas, marine life, water sports, and ocean cruises.

Transit JUPITER sextile natal Jupiter30 Dec through 31 Dec

This influence is not thought to be of particular strength or significance. Perhaps the most that might be said is that though they may not prove instrumental in helping you succeed, the people and situations you encounter at this time will at least not provide obstacles to your own efforts to attain some goal. Considering the frustration and discouragement that can result from coping with opposing forces and other snags, perhaps the absence of such obstacles can in itself be all the benefit you need.
